Some data is not validated in the registry, so negative data can be entered and it would be registered, but it does not make sense in the application

Buttons that occupy the entire screen where it gives the option to see that styles were not used

In the data insertion or the sample table of appointments registered in the database there is no query string, so one should be added for better handling of the page.

Suggestions in the code

1. More appropriate name for packages

2. Classes with variables that have not been used or recognized:

3. Separate the part of the controller elements with the view elements.
